

Privacy Statement

General

Clergy Financial Planning Service respects the privacy of every individual who visits our website or responds to our internet or printed advertisements. This Privacy Statement outlines the personal information that Clergy Financial Planning Service will collect and how we will use that information. This Privacy Statement will also provide instructions on how you can verify the accuracy of your personal information and how you can request that we delete your personal information from our databases.

Personal Information

When you visit the ClergySupport.com website or respond to any of our printed advertisements, we will not collect any personal information about you (such as your name, address, telephone number or e-mail address) unless you provide it to us voluntarily. If you choose not to provide your personal information, no material consequences will result, although you may be unable to receive products, content and/or product information that requires this information for fulfillment of your request.

Personal Information Use

Clergy Financial Planning Service may store and process your personal information in order to fulfill your orders for our products and services, and we may use your personal information to contact you regarding your account or to inform you of new products and services which we believe that you may be interested in. We may also merge your personal information with data obtained from third parties for the same purposes. Clergy Financial Planning Service will not give or sell your personal information to any outside organization for the organization's own use without your consent. Personal information submitted in employment inquiries will be used only in the employment application process.

Security

Clergy Financial Planning Service is committed to keeping the data that you provide us secure and will take reasonable precautions to protect your personal information from loss, misuse or alteration. Agents or contractors of Clergy Financial Planning Service who have access to your personal information in connection with providing services to Clergy Financial Planning Service are required to keep the information confidential and are not permitted to use this information for any other purpose than to carry out the services that they are providing to Clergy Financial Planning Service.

Minors

Clergy Financial Planning Service markets to taxpayers and has no intention of collecting any personal information from individuals under eighteen years of age and will delete such information from our databases upon discovery. If a child has provided us with personal information, a parent or guardian of that child may contact us to remove this information from our databases.

"Cookies"

In certain cases, we may automatically collect information that is not personal in nature such as the type of internet browser that you are using. In addition, when you are using our internet service, we may store some information on your computer in the form of a "cookie". This allows us to tailor our website to provide you with services which are optimized for speed and ease of use by your computer. Most internet browsers enable you to erase "cookies" from your hard drive, block "cookies", or receive a warning before a "cookie" is stored on your hard drive. Please refer to your internet browser instructions to learn more about these functions. Clergy Financial Planning Service does not collect or store any personal information automatically.

Correction/Deletion

If you have submitted personal information through our website or printed offers and would like to have that information corrected or deleted from our databases, please contact us via e-mail, telephone, fax or mail.
